| 1:00PM - 2:45PM | Teacher: know thyself!
A brief reflection exercise has faculty record and share the reasons they teach, their strengths, passions, and priorities as medical educators. In an outdoor escape room, plot your professional path and find opportunities for growth with messages from:
- Department of Family Medicine Chair: Build a network, and tips for plotting your path
- Undergraduate Director: Nurture and teach medical students
- Postgraduate Director: Explore ways to grow in your role (and lead) as a resident teacher
- Director of Research: Share your spark! Scholarship opportunities for mere mortals
- Deans of Continuing Professional Development: Discover lifelong learning opportunities and winning awards for simply learning to be a medical teacher
- Health Sciences Research Librarian: Explore resources for your journey |
| 2:45PM - 2:55PM | Break |
| 2:55PM - 4:50PM | Essential Teaching Skills 1: Fundamentals
What’s new in family medicine teaching? What are my roles, responsibilities, and expectations as a faculty member?
• This 1.5 hour long course covers tips for delivering effective feedback, and writing learning objectives for learners at all stages of learning.
• Distinguish how Competency-Based-Medical-Education differs from “Time-based” medical education. |
| 4:50PM - 5:00PM | Wrap-up and Evaluation |
