WDMH’s Unique Strengths

- Well-recognized rural health education program.
- Strong skills and resources in information technology.
- Leadership role in the Centre of Excellence for Rural Health and Education.
- The hospital brings local long-term care facility, physicians, community care providers, educators and researchers together in one place, for greater synergy and continuity of care.
- Proximity & well-established working relationships to secondary and tertiary referral centres.
- Community services include: cardiology investigations, diagnostic imaging, laboratory, diabetic education, nutrition, physiotherapy, speech language, pulmonary function testing, Holter monitoring, stress testing, ECG and social work.
- WDMH is a partner in several regional programs including cancer services (breast cancer screening, surgery and chemotherapy) and chronic kidney disease (dialysis).
- At WDMH, the learning experience extends beyond the hospital to this continuum of care throughout the community.

Our Communities Are Growing

• Positive population growth in both municipalities.

• New subdivisions currently being built in both municipalities.

• Both municipalities are undertaking Waterfront Development projects.

• Total construction value of building developments since January 1st, 2020 totals to over $41.4 million.

• Local municipalities are promoting economic growth. Multiple major employers in the area include manufacturing, food production, logistics, tourism, construction, and technology. Iroquois employer Ross Video is doubling the size of their in-house manufacturing facility. Meanwhile, Will’s Transfer Limited has purchased 60 acres of land in Ingleside to build a 700,000 square foot logistics and distribution centre. Existing employers are seeing growth while new employers are moving into the area.

• Major national and international tourism destination, in part due to the natural beauty and history of the area.
